

As an oxygen dependant person, I am willing to pay the fee for supplemental oxygen when traveling by airplane. I need oxygen during layovers therefore being allowed to carry a portable concentrator (which does NOT contain oxygen) will allow me to travel to see my grandchildren for the first time, and give all oxygen dependent people the freedom to travel for the first time. Please notify me regarding your ruling. I am planning a trip for Christmas and have even made reservations with the hope that this ruling will pass.

Respectfully, Janis A. Zurcher
